MEDIAN UNDERGRADUATE TUITION & FEES UP BY 10.3 PERCENT OVER LAST YEAR'S

The median student tuition for a year's attendance at one of the nation's major public universities has jumped 10.3 percent for the current academic year, from $1,121 in 1982-83 to $1,237 in 1983-84. Last year's increase was 14.3 percent.

The median total charge for undergraduate tuition and fees, room and board for state residents attending state and land-grant universities during 1983-84 is $3,357, compared to $3,132 in 1982-83, an increase of 7.1 percent. Last year, total charges rose 8.4 percent.

The Office of Communication Services of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC) received survey data from all of the Association's 141 member institutions (including branch campuses) in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Table 1 shows a two-year comparison of median undergraduate charges at state and land-grant universities for state residents and non-residents.

N = Number of respondents. For inclusion in total charges, a respondent must be a four-year, Ph.D.-granting member institution that offers room and from 19 to 21 meals per week.

[1] Median charges at institutions with separate room and board fees.

[2] Median charges at all institutions that offer room and board.

Of a total of 195 survey respondents, 146 met the criteria for inclusion in the statistical tables comprising this report. The criteria are: (1) a four-year campus; (2) a Ph.D.-granting institution; and (3) a campus that offers room and from 19 to 21 meals per week. The remaining 48 campuses, which are not included in Tables 1 to 17, are included in Table 18.

NON-RESIDENT TUITION RISES 16.9 PERCENT THIS YEAR

The median charge to non-resident undergraduates for tuition and fees rose from $2,538 in 1982-83 to $2,968 in 1983-84, an increase of 16.9 percent, compared to last year's 5.9 percent jump.

Median total charges for non-residents this year are $5,248 compared to $4,658 in 1982-83, a jump of 12.6 percent.

This year the median room rate is $1,040, an increase of 8.3 percent over last year's median of $960 for the 92 comparable campuses which provided data on separate room charges. The median board rate rose 6.6 percent at 83 comparable campuses, from $1,060 in 1982-83 to $1,130 in 1983-84.

Combined room and board, including data for campuses which charge separately for these services and those which have one combined charge, rose 6.9 percent, from $2,070 in 1982-83 to $2,214 in 1983-84. One hundred and twenty-two comparable campuses provided information about room and board.

The reason most often given for increases in student charges was inflation. Ninety-six respondents checked this category. The next most frequently mentioned reason was the necessity to maintain program quality (93). Other reasons cited included inadequate appropriations from the state legislature (62), no other source of additional revenue available (5), faculty and staff salary increases (29), legislative mandate (29), and changes in student aid (4). Twenty schools cited other reasons, such as academic program support, substantial increases in utility costs, and governor's mandate.

NEW ENGLAND AGAIN LEADS REGIONAL COMPARISONS

Member institutions in New England continue to have the highest tuition and fees, both for state residents and non-residents. The western schools reported the lowest tuition and fees for in-state students, as well as the lowest out-of-state tuition and fees. However, the percentage differential of non-resident charges over resident is highest in the West, with non-residents paying 308 percent more than residents.

For resident undergraduates, the median charge in New England is $1,545, followed by $1,467 in the middle Atlantic states, $1,296 in the Midwest, $944 in the Southeast, and $834 in the West, which had the highest number of respondents.

For non-resident students, New England also leads the regions, with a median charge of $4,521. The Midwest comes next with a median charge of $3,634, followed by the middle Atlantic ($3,118), the Southeast ($2,586), and the West ($2,568). Table 2 gives a regional comparison of median charges for undergraduate tuition and fees for 1983-84.

LAW AND DENTISTRY LEAD GRADUATE TUITION HIKES

Of all graduate and professional students at NASULGC member institutions, non-resident dentistry students sustained the greatest median tuition increase in 1983-84, with a 34 percent jump over last year. In-state dentistry students pay 11 percent more this year. In-state law students pay 15.4 percent more this year than last, while in-state medical students experienced a relatively mild tuition boost of 6 percent.

Other major increases in median tuition at comparable graduate and professional schools were reported for non-resident graduate students (15.8 percent), non-resident medical students (14.3 percent), and non-resident veterinary medicine students (13.6 percent).

Each of the five types of graduate and professional schools examined sustained a major increase in tuition for 1983-84, with only the resident medical student figure being less than 10 percent.

Table 3 gives complete information on median charges at comparable reporting graduate and professional schools for 1983-84 and 1982-83, and the amount and percentage of change.

21 CAMPUSES HOLD THE LINE ON TUITION; ONE ON TOTAL CHARGES

Twenty-one campuses did not raise resident undergraduate tuition and fees in 1983-84, compared to 19 in 1982-83. The following 21 campuses did not increase resident undergraduate tuition and fees this year.

University of Wyoming
Wayne State University
University of Guam
University of Texas Health Science Center, Dallas
University of Texas, Austin
Delaware State College
Prairie View A&M University
University of Mississippi Medical Center
University of Tennessee
Auburn University
University of Florida
Langston University
Texas Tech University
University of Texas Health Science Center, Houston
University of Texas, Arlington
Univ. of the District of Columbia
New Mexico State University
University of Idaho
University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston
University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio
University of Houston

Seventeen campuses held steady in non-resident undergraduate tuition and fees in 1983-84. They are the following:

University of Wyoming
Wayne State University
University of Texas Health Science Center, Dallas
University of Texas, Austin
Delaware State College
Prairie View A&M University
University of Tennessee
Auburn University
University of Florida
Langston University
Texas Tech University
University of Texas Health Science Center, Houston
University of Texas, Arlington
University of Idaho
University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston
University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio
University of Houston

All campuses but one (Alabama A&M) experienced increases in total charges (tuition, fees, room and board) for non-resident undergraduates for 1983-84.

(In 1982-83 ten campuses held the line by not raising total charges compared to one campus in 1981-82, five campuses in 1980-81, two campuses in 1979-80, twenty-four in 1978-79, and thirty-two in 1977-78.)

RESIDENT TUITION TOPS $1,000 AT MORE THAN HALF OF CAMPUSES

Ninety-one campuses had charges of $1,000 or more for resident undergraduate tuition and fees, compared to 83 in 1982-83, 53 in 1981-82, 31 in 1980-81, and 24 in 1979-80. Five campuses charged less than $400 in 1983-84. This was an increase over the 1982-83 year, when charges at three campuses were less than $400. It also surpassed the 1981-82 level, when only one of the campuses surveyed charged less than $400. However, it was fewer than the number of campuses charging under $400 in both 1980-81 (eight) and 1979-80 (eleven).

Consistent with the last three years, the number of campuses charging in the $700-$999 range was less than half of the total number of respondents: 36 in 1983-84, 37 in 1982-83, 42 in 1981-82, and 80 in 1980-81.

There were no campuses charging non-resident students less than $1,000. At the other end of the scale, the number of campuses charging non-resident undergraduates more than $3,400 was 56 -- a considerable increase over 1982-83 (39) and 1980-81 (10) figures. 1981-82 figures were not available on this item.

Table 4 gives the ranges and number of campuses in each range for undergraduate tuition and fees in 1983-84.

Seventy-seven campuses charged resident undergraduates $3,000 and above in 1983-84 for tuition, fees, room and board, while in 1982-83 that figure was 70 campuses. In 1981-82, 52 campuses charged $3,000 and above, compared with 27 campuses in 1980-81. In 1983-84, two campuses charged $1,999 or less for total charges, compared to one campus in 1982-83, two in 1981-82 and 13 in 1980-81.

Total charges for non-resident undergraduates in 1983-84 reveal a similar pattern. Seventy-seven campuses charged non-residents $4,700 and above in 1983-84, compared to 58 campuses in 1982-83, 45 in 1981-82, 34 in 1980-81 and 18 in 1979-80. At the lower end, three campuses charged less than $2,999 in 1983-84, compared to none in 1982-83 and 1981-82. Two campuses charged less than $2,999 in 1980-81 and four did in 1979-80. Median tuition and fees for resident undergraduates increased at 116 of 132 institutions, while non-resident tuition and fees increased at 119 of 132 designated institutions. For residents, 57 campuses, or approximately 43 percent, had increases of 0 to 99 dollars. For non-residents, 26, or almost 20 percent (19.6) of the campuses increased tuition and fees by less than $100. Increases in total charges for most institutions ranged from $100 to $399 for residents (100 campuses or 85 percent with increases falling in this range). For non-residents, the 1982-83 to 1983-84 increases were well distributed from the $100-$200 range to the $600-$699 range. Tables 6, 7, 8 and 9 show the ranges of increases in tuition and fees and total charges for both resident and non-resident students.

LONG-TERM RISE IN MEDIAN TUITION TOPS GAIN IN HIGHER ED PRICE INDEX

The National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges has surveyed its member institutions about tuition and fees since 1965. From 1965-66 to 1983-84, median charges for resident undergraduate tuition and fees have risen 297.74 percent, from $311 to $1,237. During the same 19-year period, the Higher Education Price Index rose 218.3 percent and the Consumer Price Index rose 208.1 percent. (The Higher Education Price Index was developed by D. Kent Halstead, research economist at the National Institute of Education, and indexes the prices that colleges and universities pay for goods and services.)

Median charges for non-resident undergraduate tuition and fees rose from $734 in 1965 to $2,968 in 1983, an increase of $2,234 or 304.35 percent. In sum, the long-term median tuition for resident students at state and land-grant universities has risen 79.44 percent more than the Higher Education Price Index, and 89.64 percent more than the Consumer Price Index. For non-resident students, the increase has been 86.05 percent more than the Higher Education Price Index and 96.25 percent more than the Consumer Price Index. As has been stated in earlier reports, this reflects the fact that state and land-grant universities have had to look increasingly to tuition and fees for revenue, while income from other sources has been depleted by inflation and slow growth in state appropriations.

Table 10 shows median charges for undergraduate tuition and fees since 1965 and the dollar and percentage increases for each academic year. The number of respondents supplying data for Table 10 varies from year to year, and therefore the respondents are not a directly comparable group of campuses.

15-YEAR RISE IN TOTAL CHARGES IS SMALLER THAN RISE IN PRICE INDEXES

The National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges began to monitor total undergraduate charges--tuition, fees, room and board--in 1969. From 1969 to 1983, median total charges for resident undergraduates rose from $1,297 to $3,357, a jump of 158.82 percent. Median total charges for non-residents increased from $1,910 to $5,248, an increase of 174.76 percent. During the same time period the Higher Education Price Index increased 187.8 percent and the Consumer Price Index rose 192.8 percent.

Table 11 shows median total undergraduate charges since 1969 and the dollar and percentage increases for each academic year. The number of respondents supplying data for Table 11 varies from year to year, and therefore the respondents are not a directly comparable group of campuses.
